

Affiliation Agreement between The Caux Round Table
and
The International Society of Business, Economics, and Ethics

The Caux Round Table (“CRT”) and the International Society of Business, Economics, and Ethics (“ISBEE”) do hereby extend their affiliation, originally established on July 1, 2002. The affiliation is intended to benefit both organizations. It is rooted in their shared goal of identifying solutions to the ethical challenges which corporations face in a global economy, and builds upon their respective capacities and competencies.

The CRT is a global network of senior business leaders. It is dedicated to the promotion of principled business leadership and responsible corporate conduct, as articulated within The Caux Round Table Principles for Business. The CRT also is committed to taking practical steps to promote a broader sharing of the fruits of prosperity throughout the world, with a particular focus upon the economic and social development of poor nations.

ISBEE is a global organization that seeks to bring together academicians and practitioners from traditionally distinctive fields to address the ethical dimension of issues affecting global and domestic business organizations. ISBEE provides a forum for the exchange of experiences and ideas relevant to these issues, and supports a cross-disciplinary approach to their solution.

In light of this affiliation, the CRT will support ISBEE by:

- Linking its website with ISBEE’s
- Participating in the ISBEE Congress held in Cape Town, South Africa, in July 2008 by organizing a CRT session on the Congress Theme – Global Fairness-Local Integrity
- Inviting the President of ISBEE or a designee to participate as an observer at its annual Global Dialogue
- Sharing its mailing list.
- Giving ISBEE an opportunity to collaborate with individual CRT participants in specific activities (e.g., serving the ISBEE Executive Advisory Group, serving as a speaker at ISBEE meetings, etc.). It is noted by both organizations that the CRT cannot commit CRT participants to such activities; any engagement on their part with ISBEE would be completely at their personal discretion.

Reciprocally, ISBEE will support the CRT by:

- Linking its website with CRT’s
- Supporting CRT’s Global Dialogue as mutually agreed
- Inviting the Chair of the CRT to speak at the ISBEE Global Congress
- Giving CRT an opportunity to collaborate with individual ISBEE members
- Sharing its mailing list

In order to facilitate implementation of this agreement, the CRT Global Executive Director will appoint an appropriate CRT participant to serve as liaison with ISBEE and the President of the ISBEE will reciprocally appoint an appropriate ISBEE member to serve as liaison with the CRT for purposes of implementing this affiliation agreement.

The extension of the affiliation agreement comes into effect on July 1, 2006 and lasts four years. Should this affiliation continue to prove satisfactory to each of them, the CRT and ISBEE may consider expanding its terms in the future to include other activities and endeavors, and to renew the affiliation agreement in 2010.

Both organizations will note this affiliation on their respective websites.

For the Caux Round Table:

For the International Society of Business, Economics and Ethics:

Chair

President

Date:

Date: